

Reviews

Surviving Georgia

Terms of Endearment meets Anywhere But Here

Jovita

A kooky comedy-drama about a crazy mother who tricks her two daughters into returning to their home town by faking her own death. Watch how their anger of being abandoned by her melts into a journey of forgiveness and healing. A nice ensemble cast with a witty script makes this a very entertaining movie. 🌀

Esther

This lively and warm-hearted comedy drama is about the unhappy relationship of a crazy mom with her two abandoned daughters. There is nothing but only forgiveness can heal the family and in the process they discover so much about love and family. This movie is beautifully filmed with good acting and absurd delights. 🌀

Unfortunately for Rose and Heidi their mother Georgia is in a world of her own. Abandoned early in their childhood Rose and Heidi grow up independent and with different lives. That is until their mother concocts a scheme to get them all back together. A story of family (can't live without them), love (sometimes comes when you're not looking), and life (the choices you make with the good and the bad). 🌀

Jackie

Edwin

It is like action and reaction. With such strong character Georgia should have expected how her daughters respond to her. A broken family to begin, the daughters perpetuate their incomplete life until they are able to mend the pieces together that maternal love was missing for 12 years in their adolescence. Whoever the Georgia among the audience might reconsider priorities in life. 🌀

Eric

An 80's mother leaves her daughters to survive. Heidi and Rose the two who are abandoned, raise independently. When they know the death of their mother and they decide go back to the place where they were born. They realize the death of the mother is a lie... 🌀

Surviving Georgia

Director: Sandra Sciberras and Kate Whitbread

Language: English

Subtitle: Traditional Chinese

Run Time: 91 min (Theatrical)

Rate: M-Australia (TBC), MPAA-PG-13

Theatrical Release: Australia-October 2011

Inflight Release: December 2011

Territories: Worldwide excluding Australia and New Zealand

an encore experience